HOUSING

Campers will be staying in Santa Catalina dorms, which is the one of the largest dorms at UCSB. The dorms are suite style. Suite style means that there are two rooms that share a bathroom. Each room has two beds. As a camper you will have one roommate and two suitemates. As guests of Santa Catalina, we should strive to treat the hall with respect. Any damage incurred during your stay will be your financial responsibility.

Living in Santa Catalina will allow you to experience what it's like to be an independent college student.

DINING

Breakfast and dinner during the week will be held at the Portola Dining Commons. Lunch will be provided at the De La Guerra Dining Commons. The meals will be buffet style as seen commonly in many college campuses across the country. All meals will be served following a 5-10 minute nutrition brief. The nutritional brief will feature tips and nutritional breakdowns of what is available and what to focus on to fuel and recover. After eating your first serving you will be allowed a second portion comprised of items that can be found in the salad bar section of the dining hall.

UNPLUGGED

At Camp New Heights we believe in being present and having shared experiences with fellow campers. Due to our mission to encouraged shared experiences, we limit cell phone usage to two days a week. The lack of technology helps campers form stronger bonds with their peers and truly experience camp.

Campers will have access to their phone after the nighttime activity on Monday through the next morning. Additionally, Campers will have their phones on Fridays.

Upon arrival campers will be without their phones until their first Friday. After the initial period they will get their phones every Monday and Friday.

ELIZA KINGSFORD

This year Camp New Heights is thrilled to partner with internationally recognized expert and psychotherapist Eliza Kingsford. Eliza is passionate about helping youth develop a healthy body image and relationship with food and will be providing clinical direction to Camp New Heights.

Eliza Kingsford is the preeminent voice in the youth wellness, nutrition, and weight loss space. She has spent years cultivating her unique clinical approach to working with kids that facilitates lasting change. Eliza has many years of experience in the camp industry through her extensive work at Wellspring Camps and as the founder of Empowered Wellness.

BEHAVIOR TRAINING

Eliza is a licensed psychotherapist trained in clinical psychology, Neuro Emotional Technique [NET], and Emotional Freedom Technique (EFT or tapping) methodologies. Her book Brain-Powered Weight Loss is a best seller and highlights the mind-body connection for when, why and how we choose food. She has trained hundreds of clinicians in her field and is regularly tapped to speak on topics like the science of behavior change, healthy body image, weight management techniques and more.

Eliza's services will be offered during registration as an add-on item.

BEGINNER TRACK

The beginner track is designed to fit campers who are new to exercise or athletic activities. Information about physiology, weight loss, recovery, overload, proper running, so much more. These campers will see transformations in weight, self-esteem, muscle tone, and a tangible feeling of well being (feeling good). Campers will gain exercises and lifestyle tips that they can bring home with them to continue their healthy lifestyle journey.

INTERMEDIATE TRACK

Our intermediate track is for those athletes who have some experience with organized sports. This experience can range from club, junior varsity, etc... These athletes have the athletic background, but perhaps lack the skills and knowledge to work on their game outside of the season or outside of the confines off the field/gymnasium. These athletes may struggle with their weight, diet choices, or staying in game shape year round. Our intermediate athletes may also be athletes who want to go from making the team to making the starting lineup.

ADVANCED TRACK

The advanced track is primarily made up of athletes who have athletic experience. These campers may have experience playing on a school team or have some other kind of athletic experience, but they still have untapped potential. JT Thompson (JT) will utilize his years of experience working with middle school, high school, and professional athletes to enhance each athlete's performance. JT will also work on the mental acuity and focus it takes to reach the next level. JT's athletes leave his class with a multitude of skills that can be built on at home and will surely show themselves in future athletic endeavors.

EXCURSIONS

On weekends campers will embark on excursions that take them off campus on adventures. In the past these activities have included: ziplining, standup paddleboarding, kayaking in the Channel Islands, ice skating, dinner and a movie, and camping in national parks.

GROCERY STORE CHALLENGE

On Sundays campers are grouped together in teams and assigned a different piece of a meal (appetizer, main course, dessert). The teams then research healthy recipes that they can prepare for their portion of the meal. Utilizing the nutritionist as a guide, campers will make a supply list of ingredients needed at the grocery store. Campers will then be taken to the local grocery store and will pick out their items with their team. While collecting items campers will learn to read and understand nutrition labels, comparative shop, and look for key ingredients in various goods.

COOKING CHALLENGE

On the heels of returning from the grocery store, campers will now work with their teams to prepare their food items for the entire group. Whether it's baking, grilling, cutting, or carving, the camper's get their hands dirty in the kitchen preparing a delicious lunch for all of the campers. The Sunday cooking challenge is the stuff of legends, campers love the Sunday cooking challenge.

Campers' families will notice that upon a return home, camper's have taken an interest in helping with grocery shopping and preparing meals.
